Sunset House Feb 09 2022 The affluent bedroom community of Chestnut Hills is rocked when two of its residents are savagely beaten and raped, stirring horrid memories of a similar, unsolved attack that lead to the victim's suicide 10 years earlier. When a routine traffic stop leads to the arrest of Sonny Marx, a wily conman with a lurid past, and a trunk full of incriminating evidence, contentious brothers, Andrew and Ethan Rivers, square off in court. Andrew, the dogmatic prosecutor who will stop at nothing, absolutely nothing, to win – Ethan, the unscrupulous criminal defense attorney who will use every trick in the book to do likewise. Before the trial begins, however, their father dies unexpectedly, uniting the brothers against their estranged and vindictive mother, who, along with her well-oiled attorney of a boyfriend, seeks control of his sizeable estate. But the burgeoning family hostility does not stop the legal world from grinding onward, and while Andrew delves deeper into the seedy life of Sonny Marx, leading to the discovery of a masochistic sex dungeon for the city's well-connected, Ethan goes toe-to-toe with reputed mob boss, Anthony Ricci, a vengeful father on the hunt for one of Ethan's renegade clients. Yet, and unbeknownst to the brothers, the more the legal world grinds away, the closer they come to unlocking a devastating secret – a secret one brother will endure, and one will not. A secret that will prey upon an entire community.

Eros at Dusk Aug 15 2022 This book analyzes the relationship between wedding poetry and love poetry in the classical world. By treating both Greek and Latin texts, it offers an innovative and wide-ranging discussion of the poetic representation of social occasions. The discourses associated with weddings and love affairs both foreground ideas of persuasion and praise even though they differ dramatically in their participants and their outcomes. Furthermore, these texts make it clear that the brief, idealized, and eroticized moment of the wedding stands in contrast to the long-lasting and harmonious agreement of the marriage. At times, these genres share traditional forms of erotic persuasion, but at other points, one genre purposefully alludes to the other to make a bride seem like a paramour or a paramour like a bride. Explicit divergences remind the audience of the different trajectories of the wedding, which will hopefully transition into a stable marriage, and the love affair, which is unlikely to endure with mutual affection. Important themes include the threshold; the evening star; plant and animal metaphors; heroic comparisons; reciprocity and the blessings of the gods; and sexual violence and persuasion. The consistency and durability of this intergeneric relationship demonstrates deep-seated conceptions of legitimate and illegitimate sexual relationships. By examining these two types of poetry in tandem, Eros at Dusk adds fresh insight into the social concerns and generic composition of these occasional poems.

The House at Sunset Jan 20 2023 With the coming of the 20th century, the house was in decline-soon to be broken into apartments and shops, including a cafe serving the increasingly poorer passing trade. For Public Health Inspector Jonathan Roper it was a disgrace that should be demolished without further ado. But whether they loved it or hated it, the the Old Vine had affected every person who came into contact with it. Whippoorwills at Dusk along Gourd Neck Road Dec 19 2022 Gary Mitchell was reared in rural South Alabama, and the memories that he captured in this book are some of the fondest that he recalls during that special time when life seemed so much simpler. Family has always been central in his constellation of influences. "Whippoorwills at Dusk along Gourd Neck Road" is a collection of stories recounted by some of his most significant, influential family members, as well as some of his own experiences during childhood, adolescence and early adulthood. The book also contains a brief description and history during his early years of the small community in which he spent most of his life. Fullers Crossroads is a small community just north of Luverne, the seat of government for Crenshaw County, Alabama. This community and the small dirt lane, Gourd Neck Road, which is located within the community, is the focus for the majority of the stories recounted in the book. These stories were recorded to prevent them from dying at the passing of the author's generation. It is hoped that the reading of this book will allow the reader to experience similar recollections from their own past so that they, too, will share those precious memories to the current generation.

For two years after Sir John's death, Lady Fortescue, still a comparatively young woman, continued to live in the Domaine, years that were not altogether happy. Then, visiting a friend, she came across a small, near-derelict house set amidst thickets of wild lavender, magenta gladioli, and trailing sweet peas. She fell instantly in love with it, and thus began a new and happy chapter of her life. With the help of her dear friend and neighbour, 'Mademoiselle', she set about trying to purchase the property from a complicated and cunning 'Mafia' of local Provençals—and then, once more, she began the heart-warming, frustrating, funny, and altogether delightful process of transforming a small Provençal cottage into a home and creating a breathtaking garden down the side of the mountain. She called it SUNSET HOUSE.
