humor and practical real-world nursing experience, this short and sweet book aims to take you from new nurse to Florence Nightingale status in less than three months! Orientation has been shown to directly influence nurse retention, job satisfaction, and productivity. An orientation program for newly hired nurses in a hospice setting was developed using a competency-based orientation model. Patricia Benner's five levels of skill acquisition and growth was used to guide the development of the program. The overall goal of the project is to enhance the competencies of new employees in an effective and cost-efficient manner as a means to provide quality patient care. Elements of the orientation program which was developed are included in appendices C through H (Employee orientation manual Table of contents; General orientation agenda; Orientation competency exam; Departmental orientation checklist; Hospice house nursing orientation agenda; RN and LPN competency checklists).

The Guide serves as a valuable resource for orienting nurses new to ambulatory care as well as developing comprehensive competency assessment programs. A wide selection of age specific and specialty care topics are covered, including telehealth. The Guide contains many enhancements: 1) updated content from the previous book with definitions, Key Tips, and examples; 2) chapters on nurse educator competencies, defining the educator's role in ambulatory care and providing guidance and tools for use in developing needed competency; 3) a tool kit for transitioning to ambulatory care with many helpful links and resources; and 4) an appendix containing sample orientation and competency tools that will help you develop your own tools. This convenient and easy-to-use orientation reference and care guide provides new neonatal nurses and their preceptors with the core information they need to provide all aspects of safe, effective, holistic care to newborn infants and their families. Addressing the needs of both low-risk and high-risk infants, the guide presents specific, ..... Resource added for the Nursing-Associate Degree 105431, Practical Nursing 315431, and Nursing Assistant 305431 programs. Print+CourseSmart Intended for both financial and nonfinancial managers, this text covers six primary areas the author deems necessary for managers to incorporate into their decision-making processes: financial reporting, prospective and retrospective payment systems, cost accounting, management accounting, financial management, and strategic management. The author, a business and finance consultant, stresses the importance of teamwork in working toward an outcome management system that honors clients and coworkers, promotes innovation, and balances clinical and financial organizational requirements. Annotation c. by Book News, Inc., Portland, Or. Manual of Home Care Nursing Orientation provides a sound, practical, easy-to-use tool for orientation of home health nurses and covers all aspects of home care nursing. Each chapter includes objectives, key concepts, and materials to encourage independent learning, problem solving, and application of learned material to independent practice that can be applied to individual agency policies and forms. This manual will enable home care agencies to have an orientation program that complies with Medicare regulations and Joint Commission accreditation standards. It includes an Instructor's guide to assist them in preparing and implementing an orientation program as well as program material. The manual is updated annually to address new developments in home health care. This binder and CD-ROM walk you through each step of a well-run orientation program so you can incorporate field-tested, evidence-based practices at your facility. Use this resource to evaluate your program outcomes, fulfill Joint Commission orientation requirements, train new graduates, and meet the needs of a diverse workforce. Historically our radiology nurse colleagues walked into their respective imaging departments not fully understanding their new role or how to make it reality. Very few nurses had a formal introduction into radiology; rather, nurses began to apply our skills in this technology-dominated world as we identified the need. Entering radiology proved to be a challenge as we mastered a foreign language and gained an appreciation for the radiologists and technologists with whom we work. Over time, nurses began to compile their knowledge to pass onto new nurses; thus the formal orientation process was born. Staff Educator's Guide to Clinical Orientation, 2E guides readers in creating and sustaining a high-quality orientation and onboarding program that meets the needs of nurses, organizations, and patients. In this fully revised second edition, authors Alvin Jeffery, Robin Jarvis, and Amy Word-Allen provide all the tools staff educator's need to successfully develop a nursing and healthcare workforce. Whether the staff educator is new to leading orientation efforts or a seasoned nursing staff development specialist, this book will help readers:

- Understand and use the ADDIE model
- Analyze, design, and implement an orientation program
- Evaluate an individual's competency
- Conduct surveys and focus groups
- Manage orientee errors and personality conflicts

This policy and procedure book is a valuable resource for new or existing cardiac surgery programs. It provides support for each procedure in the cardiac surgery environment to include standards of practice, risk management, staffing competencies, and quality indicators to optimize care of the cardiovascular surgery patient. The policy manual is based upon AORN standards and meets JCAHO standards for the operating room environment. "Colleges and universities are continually looking for quality nurse educators to instruct nursing students. Retention of nurses, including nursing instructors, is in jeopardy all over the world. A high-quality onboarding process prior, during, and after the orientation process, has been an asset within many aspects of the hiring population. The purpose of this project was to help new nursing educators obtain a specific orientation period with onboarding tools to enhance a positive experience that will lead into long retention period for an employer."--leaf 3.
